AAFITN

The Asian-Australasian Federation of Interventional and Therapeutic Neuroradiology (AAFITN) was founded in 1994 to promote the practice and knowledge of interventional and therapeutic neuroradiology in the Asian-Australasian region via the organization's regional meetings. Our society holds scientific conferences every two years, with the world federation meetings happening in between. A main element of the field is neuroendovascular therapy, which is currently experiencing rapid progress with the development of techniques and devices. Our membership has also grown over the years, with a current headcount of over 400. The society's Executive Committee is working towards making the society membership process more convenient as well as beneficial to its existing and potential members. The work that is given attention to includes improving the society's official home page, establishing the society constitution, development of educational programs and maintaining stable working funds.

Under the capable leadership of our past presidents, the following scientific congresses were successfully organised by:-

Malaysian Society of Interventional Radiology (MYSIR) was established in 2012. MYSIR's mission is to be the primary national body in the development of interventional and neuro-interventional radiology and to provide excellent healthcare, research and teaching to enhance the standard of medical practice in Malaysia.

MYSIR believes that continuous education and training will mitigate these challenges. Apart from educational and awareness activities, the society has also formed ties with other interventional societies around the world to foster working relationship, exchange of ideas and training opportunities.

The College of Radiology, Academy of Medicine of Malaysia is under the umbrella body of the Academy of Medicine of Malaysia. Their members comprises of clinical radiologists, clinical oncologists and nuclear medical physicians. It is a non-profit professional body and aims to serve patients and society by maximizing the value of radiology, clinical oncology, interventional radiology, nuclear medicine, medical physics and other allied health sciences.

Welcome Message By The President Of Asian-Australasian Federation Of Interventional And Therapeutic Neuroradiology (AAFITN)

On behalf of the Organising Committee of the upcoming conference of the Asian-Australasian Federation of Interventional Neuroradiology (AAFITN), I would like to invite all of you to join us for the 13th AAFITN 2018 meeting which is going to be held in Malaysia.

Neuroendovascular therapies are increasingly performed in our region, with great demand due to our large population as well as the support garnered from many young neuro-interventionists. Despite the treatment method receiving generous funding and having a large base, there is a lack of documented case series and clinical reports in a regional context being produced for continued medical education. With the less established clinical research system and delay in approval of new treatments and devices, we tend to refer to clinical experiences documented in the West. In addition, the insufficient number and poor distribution of neuroendovascular therapists in developing countries may be cause for the lack of opportunity for patients to undergo less invasive therapies like this.

Despite the differences in governmental, economic, religious and ethical standpoints that create barriers, we in the field must pursue the academic and educational summit beyond them. A close friendship among our members being essential to promote the further development of our society.

It is of utmost importance that an individual grasps basic knowledge and understanding of appropriate strategies as well as up-to-date techniques based on current world trends. Therefore, with the timely theme “Strengthening Foundations and Exploring New Concepts”, I surely believe the 13th AAFITN meeting in 2018, organised by Dr Jeyaledchumy Mahadevan, will open the door leading us to a brighter future.

I believe we, the AAFITN, have the potential, power and strong-will to develop and expand. I would like to take this opportunity to extend the request for cooperation and sincere contributions from all the members in AAFITN, to build a better tomorrow for our society and our patients.

In March 2018, the 13th Asian Australasian Federation of Interventional and Therapeutic Neuroradiology (AAFITN 2018) will for the first time be held in Malaysia. The College of Radiology, Academy of Medicine of Malaysia is very honoured to be a part of this prestigious event together with the Asian Australasian Federation of Interventional and Therapeutic Neuroradiology & the Malaysia Society of Interventional Radiology.

The Malaysian Congress of Radiology component for this year will focus on back-to-basics and updates in the fields of Thoracic Radiology, Breast Radiology and also Musculoskeletal Radiology. There are also special sessions for radiographers/radiologic technologists in our programme.

This will be a great time for radiologists from all over Malaysia and the world to meet, make friends, renew friendships and exchange ideas about their knowledge and practice in this fascinating speciality of medicine we all love, Radiology.

Conference Venue

The Magellan Sutera Hotel & Convention Centre, Kota Kinabalu, Sabah

Kota Kinabalu is the capital of Malaysia's Sabah state in the northern part of the island of Borneo. It is strategically located with many flights access from various Asia Pacific cities. Kota Kinabalu International Airport is Malaysia's second busiest airport.

Kota Kinabalu is a popular venue for conferences as it boasts friendly Sabahans with great hospitality and a unique mesh of rich local culture and cuisine. It is a safe city that is protected by Mount Kinabalu, a Unesco Heritage site and Borneo's tropical rainforests, one of the oldest in the world. Climbing Mount Kinabalu is a popular "bucket list" for many individuals and we anticipate many delegates will be making this a part of their AAFITN 2018 pre or post-conference adventure.

See you in Sabah, the land below the wind.
